FEBRUARY 28, 1912.

By Mr. GRIFFIN.—Whereas, It is manifest that the transit facilities of the City of New York, in all its boroughs, are wholly inadequate and have not been improved to keep pace with the growth of population, in consequence whereof there exists a disgraceful condition of congestion on subway, surface and elevated lines, and

Whereas, The existing corporations, which have been entrusted with the control of transit operation have utterly failed to extend or even improve the roads under their control to meet the needs of a constantly increasing population, and

Whereas, Since the opening of the existing subway in 1904, the question of increasing rapid transit facilities has been the subject of continual agitation, and

Whereas, During all of these eight years, plan after plan has been taken up, considered and set aside, and

Whereas, The settlement of the question now seems as remote as it was in 1904, and

Whereas, The people of the City of New York, have heretofore, and in many ways, expressed their conviction that all rapid transit routes should be constructed and operated by the municipality, and

Whereas, To this end, the Public Service Commission, at an expense of upwards of $500,000, prepared plans for a rapid transit system, commonly called the "Tri-Borough Route," and

Whereas, Before the City of New York was permitted to proceed with the work of construction, persistent representations emanating from certain sources antagonistic to municipal construction and operation, were made, and rumors circulated, that the City of New York could not enter into contracts for the construction of said route for the reason that the city's debt-incurring capacity was exhausted, and

Whereas, To determine this initial question the matter was submitted to the Appellate Division of the First Department, which tribunal on October 22, 1909, in amending and confirming the report of Benjamin B. Tracy, decided that the city had a borrowing capacity of $54,759,646, and

Whereas, To further enhance the city's ability to incur indebtedness for the purpose of building rapid transit routes, a constitutional amendment was submitted to, and adopted by, the people of the State of New York at the election in November, 1909, excluding self-retiring dock and traction bonds from the computation of the city's debt, thereby increasing the city's borrowing capacity about $125,000,000; thus making the total borrowing capacity of the City of New York at that time (November, 1909), upward of $183,000,000, and

Whereas, Successive increases in the tax valuations of the City of New York, to wit: 1909, $84,763,915; 1910, $237,012,970, and 1911, $987,048,693, show an increase of valuation of $1,218,825,578; thus giving a further borrowing capacity of $121,882,557, and making the apparent total borrowing capacity of the City of New York at the present time over $300,000,000, and

Whereas, If, as it is urged, this enormous margin has been depleted, then it is manifest that debts have been incurred of such staggering extent as to entitle the people of the City of New York to know, in the first place, what they were, and in the second place, why such expenditures were incurred in preference to the furnishing of rapid transit facilities for which the people had practically twice voted and which they had the right to consider, and do consider as of paramount importance. Therefore be it

Resolved, That a joint committee of three Senators, to be appointed by the President of the Senate, and five members of the Assembly, to be appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, is hereby constituted and appointed a legislative committee to investigate and inquire into the transit situation in the City of New York; the question of the efficiency and sufficiency of existing transit facilities; the question of the debt margin of the City of New York, how it stands in relation to the question of the municipal construction and operation of new subways; how far, and in what direction, said subways and transit lines are needed; why those already designed are not undertaken; the relation of the Public Service Commission to the subject; how far the powers of said commission extend and their relation to the board of estimate and apportionment and to the mayor of the city, and that said committee make reports to the Legislature of the State of New York from time to time with such recommendations and suggestions respecting legislation as it deems appropriate, and that the committee shall make its final report and recommendations to the Legislature on or before February 1, 1913. Such committee shall elect its chairman and vice-chairman and shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, including public officers and employees, and the production of books and papers, including public records and documents; to administer oaths, take proof and testimony, employ counsel and expert witnesses, stenographers and other assistants, to sit anywhere within the State of New York, and shall have all the powers usual and necessary in cases of legislative committees, including the adoption of rules for the conduct of its proceedings.

That the actual and necessary expenses of the committee in carrying out the provisions of this resolution, not exceeding the sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), be paid from the moneys appropriated for the contingent expenses of the Legislature by the treasurer on the warrant of the committee and the certificate of the chairman of the committee.

By Mr. STILWELL.— Whereas, prior to the adoption of the Constitution of 1894, the Justices of the Supreme Court in each Judicial Department were empowered by law to fix the times and places for holding trial terms of said court and to designate the Justices who should hold the same; and

Whereas, it was provided in the said Constitution of 1894 that the power to make such designations should be exercised by the several Appellate Divisions of said Departments; and

Whereas, there arose throughout the State general dissatisfaction with the system of having these designations made by the Appellate Division, which resulted in 1904, in the adoption by the people of a constitutional amendment by which this power was revoked and taken away from the Appellate Divisions; and

Whereas, the Legislature in the General Judiciary Act has seemingly overlooked this constitutional command and continued the power of the Appellate Division in regard thereto; and

Whereas, the said system continues to create dissatisfaction among the members of the bench and bar, as well as among litigants and parties and has given rise to complaints; and

Whereas, the Appellate Division of the First Judicial Department has undertaken to make rules and regulations for the conduct of the business of the courts, which on their face seem to clearly contravene the laws of the State; be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the standing committee of the Senate on Codes be directed to investigate the method of fixing the times and places of holding trial terms of the Supreme Court and of designating the justices to hold said terms; and also that the said committee investigate the rules adopted by the said Appellate Division of the First Judicial Department to the end that any abuses which now exist in making said designation and rules may be abolished and proper legislation in regard to the said matters may be adopted. For the purpose of this investigation the said committee may send for persons and papers and take evidence in any part of the State. The said committee shall report to the Legislature not later than January 31, 1913.

The Comptroller is authorized to pay to the chairman of the committee, from the moneys appropriated for the contingent expenses of the Legislature, a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars for the actual and necessary expenses of the committee in carrying out the provisions of this resolution, on the certificate of the committee.

Whereas, The Palisades Interstate Park is intended to be improved and extended for the use and benefit of residents of the states of New York and New Jersey and to provide and make accessible an immense recreation field and playground for the residents of Greater New York, and

Whereas, It is not publicly known whether or not the said Palisades Interstate Park Commission has taken any action or made any progress to improve and extend said park, nor has such commission reported to the legislature of nineteen hundred and twelve, a statement of its proceedings, as required to do during the month of January by section three of chapter three hundred and sixty-three of the laws of nineteen hundred and ten,

Whereas, Such act further purports to convey to said corporation valuable and exclusive privileges, and rights, and directs the conveyance to said corporation of certain lands belonging to the state under the waters of the St. Lawrence river and referred to in said act; and

Whereas, It is claimed that said corporation is proceeding under such act to acquire private lands, and to secure the consent of the governments of the United States, and of the Dominion of Canada, confirming said act and the privileges assumed to be granted thereby; and

Whereas, It is further claimed that such act is unconstitutional in that it assumes to convey exclusive rights and privileges by special enactment, and further assumes to convey a portion of the forest preserve of the state which by the constitution is made inalienable on the part of the state; be it therefore

Resolved, That the Attorney-General of the State is hereby requested to transmit to the Senate for its further consideration his written opinion as to whether such act as aforesaid contravenes the constitution of the State in any of the matters herein referred to, or in any other particulars; and if in his judgment it does, what if any present action or proceedings may be brought by the State to ascertain judicially such fact; and that such written opinion be ready for submission on the reconvening of the Senate in the year 1913, or at any time prior thereto if the same shall be convened in extraordinary session and prepared to receive the same.

By Mr. CUVILLIER.—Whereas, Postmaster General Hitchcock desires to recommend to Congress this session a plan for acquiring the telegraph lines by the Government, to be operated as a part of the postal system,

And Whereas, section 5267 of the Revised United Statutes prescribed a method whereby the Government may for postal, military or other purposes, purchase telegraph lines operating in the United States at an appraised value,

And Whereas, there is a monopoly now existing in the United States of the telegraph business consisting of two companies, to wit: Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies, and the prohibitory rates charged by said companies is a deterent to the commercial development of many sections of the United States and its Colonies; in approximately fifty countries of the world, notably in Great Britain, France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Spain, Russia and Japan, government control telegraphs now are in successful and profitable operation; in many of the countries, they are operated in connection with the postal service; these telegraphs serve an aggregate population of nine hundred and fifty million, and in every instance they have found to be of immense practical benefit to the people, in both promptitude and cost of service,

Be it Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the sense of the Legislature of the State of New York that the United States Government should acquire the existing telegraph companies, now operating in the United States, for the benefit of all the people, so that the rates may be reduced in accordance with the postal service now successfully conducted by the United States Government, and

By Mr. MURRAY.— Whereas, Pursuant to the provisions of section 30 of chapter 4, Laws of 1891, entitled "An act to provide for rapid transit railways in cities over 1,000,000 inhabitants," and the acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, the public service commission is authorized and empowered to maintain and operate rapid transit railroads in the city of New York whenever in the opinion of the board of estimate and apportionment of such city either a contract for equipment, maintenance and operation, or a contract for maintenance and operation, would be inexpedient or prejudicial to the public interest; and

Whereas, The public service commission has laid out and adopted routes for a rapid transit railroad system in said city independent of the existing system, to be constructed at the public expense, and has transmitted and is continuing to transmit to the board of estimate and apportionment of said city contracts for the construction of said railroad for the approval of said board and the appropriation of the money necessary to carry them into effect; and

Whereas, A radical difference of opinion has arisen in the minds of the people affected by this vitally needed public improvement upon the question whether such railroad system, when constructed, shall be operated by private corporations for their profit or by the municipality in the public interest; and

Whereas, The determination of the question necessarily affects the future of all rapid transit development in the city of New York for at least fifty years to come, and is therefore of supreme importance to the city, its business interests and inhabitants taxed to pay the cost of this great public improvement.

Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That a special election shall be held in the city of New York on the first Tuesday in April, 1912, in the manner provided by law, at which special election there shall be submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of the city the question whether the railroads under construction by the city at the public expense, and railroads hereafter acquired by the city, and railroads hereafter constructed by the city at the public expense shall be operated by the public service commission for the city, and to that end it shall be the duty of the board of elections of the city of New York to prepare, print and supply to such electors at such election ballots containing two columns, each with a voting circle, above which circle in one column shall be printed "For municipal operation of rapid transit road," and above the circle in the other column of which shall be printed the words "Against municipal operation of rapid transit road." The provisions of chapter 680 of the laws of 1892, entitled "An act in relation to the elections, constituting chapter 6 of the general laws," and the acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto shall apply to the conduct of said special election as far as the nature of the case may allow. Upon the canvass of such votes by the board of city canvassers, it shall be the duty of said board to file with the board of estimate and apportionment of the city of New York a statement which shall declare the total number of votes cast in said city "For municipal operation of rapid transit road," and the total number so cast "Against municipal operation of rapid transit road." By Mr. DANA.—Whereas, At times there is great danger from the introduction into our United States of deadly contagious diseases and plagues through our ports of immigration, and

Whereas, The danger from such diseases and plagues is shared alike in the possibility of its spread throughout our Nation by all the States, and in order that proper and suitable measures for the prevention of the introduction of such deadly diseases should be uniform and general throughout our coasts and borders, and

Whereas, Such diseases are mostly communicated by means of the introduction of immigrants within our borders, and inasmuch as the regulation and control of immigration is subject to the control and laws of Congress; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a committee of nine be appointed, consisting of two Senators, three Assemblymen, and four representative citizens of the State of New York, to be appointed by the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the Assembly, and the Governor of the State, respectively, to confer with a committee appointed or authorized by the Congress of the United States of America, in order to provide suitable and proper means and methods for the regulation, control, and prevention of the introduction of communicable diseases, dangerous to the health of our citizens, at our ports and within our boundaries by suitable laws and regulations by the Congress of the United States, and that such committee report its recommendations to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1913, together with proper and necessary bills to carry into effect its recommendations.

By Mr. KOPP.—Whereas, An examination of the returns of the various boards of inspectors in the county of New York of the general election held in November, 1911, discloses that in only 133 election districts of the total of 912 election districts in said county of New York did the inspectors' returns seem to be correct as to totals, and that in 205 election districts the inspectors returned more votes for the office of justice of the supreme court than could possibly have been cast, assuming other statements in the returns to be correct, and that in the remaining 574 election districts of the 912 election districts in the county of New York the inspectors failed to account for many votes for justice of the supreme court, assuming other parts of the returns to be correct; and

Whereas, It is of the utmost importance that the returns of inspectors of election of the result of such elections should be accurate, definite and certain; and that uncertain, and indefinite results should be avoided in the future, if possible; and

Whereas, It is important to determine the cause or causes of such wide variance and inaccuracies in returns and to determine whether the same be due in any part to the form of returns required by statute or for other reasons within the power of the Legislature to remedy, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the committee of privileges and elections be directed to carefully inquire into the question of inaccurate returns in the county of New York and elsewhere and determine, if possible, the reasons therefor and the remedy; and for that purpose that the said committee be instructed to examine the original inspectors' returns and tally sheets in the county of New York and elsewhere or so many of them as they may deem necessary, and also in connection therewith the register of voters, the poll clerks' books, the ballot clerks' statements and, if necessary, the voted ballots, including those returned to the ballot box and those returned as void and protested, and the unvoted ballots and all other papers, books and documents used at the general election held in November, 1911, or so much of them as the committee shall deem necessary.

And Further Resolved, That the said committee report its findings and conclusions and such recommendations as shall be deemed proper to this Assembly before the 15th day of March, 1912.

Whereas, Since the enactment of said law, the New York Fire Insurance Exchange has caused to be collected and is collecting the sum of $10 per year from each broker and agent doing a fire insurance business within the city of New York, and on the payment of said $10 as aforesaid, said New York Fire Insurance Exchange issues a certificate of authority to do fire insurance business within the city of New York and no broker or agent can do business within the city of New York unless he procures a certificate of authority and pays the sum of $10 to the New York Fire Insurance Exchange, and there are 10,000 brokers doing business in the city of New York in which the New York Insurance Exchange collects the sum of $100,000.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Attorney-General of the State of New York be directed to furnish an opinion to the Legislature forthwith, if said New York Fire Insurance Exchange, an unincorporated and voluntary association, is not a monopoly and an organization in restraint of trade, and violating the laws of the State of New York and, if so, shouldn't said New York Fire Insurance Exchange be criminally prosecuted for the violation of the law and be compelled to refund the moneys heretofore illegally collected.
